LET THE GOOD TIMES FLOW WHEN NINETEEN AT THE STAR TOASTS ITS BRAND NEW SUNDAY BRUNCH

Raise a glass to the weekend with Nineteen at The Star popping the cork on a brand new Sunday brunch worth getting out of bed for.

The sophisticated Sunday sessions begin on Sunday October 18 and mark the anticipated introduction of brunch to Nineteen at The Star, The Star Gold Coast's stunning rooftop venue.

Nineteen at The Star's bar opens at midday for guests who want to meet for a pre-brunch Bellini or Bloody Mary and for those keen to see out their Sunday afternoon in style.

Executive Chef Uday Huja has curated an exquisite menu which brings his signature flair to brunch favourites, serves up more than a few revelations and includes highlights from Nineteen at The Star's grill.

Uday has taken inspiration from his home state of Virginia, bringing his southern influence to quintessential Queensland produce to launch a seasonal and surprising menu.

Sample decadent Souffle Pancakes served with seasonal berries, chantilly cream and maple syrup; delicate Blue Swimmer Crab Omelettes with tarragon and tomato chutney; or robust Provencal Ratatouille Tarts with goats cheese and poached egg.

Nineteen at The Star's signature "Oyster Journey" graces the brunch menu, inviting guests on an oyster-tasting experience spanning the New South Wales coastline where they can enjoy the different characteristics of fresh, seasonal oysters.

Other favourites from Nineteen at The Star's charcoal oven and grill will also feature at brunch including the exquisite Ocean Trout, served on a maple syrup-infused cedar wood plank, a 300g Rare to Rare Slow Roast Prime Rib and the ultra-premium 400g 9+ MBS Wagyu Sirloin 'Kiwami'.

Adding to the elegant experience, guests can pair their brunch with a premium two-hour champagne package spotlighting Moët & Chandon, Veuve Clicquot or Ruinart or one of the bar's signature cocktails, such as an Orange Blossom, Pineapple or Grapefruit Mimosa.

"I am thrilled to share Nineteen at The Star's first brunch menu. Together with my culinary team, we've worked hard to reimagine the brunch experience and to explore beyond what is considered standard Sunday fare," Uday said.

"The team at Nineteen at The Star works closely with farmers and primary producers to source premium and sustainable produce and that has enabled us to push the boundaries when it came to crafting our launch menu.

"This brunch menu continues to demonstrate our passion and commitment to presenting produce with finesse, flair and a deep respect for nature's bounty."

The Sunday vibes, sumptuous food, signature drinks and stunning views will be complemented by a DJ spinning chilled tunes.

For those who want to keep the party going Nineteen at The Star has also unveiled plans to launch an after-brunch package that include pool entry and day bed hire.

Brunch starts at 11am every Sunday. Bookings are essential and can be made at thestargoldcoast.com.au
