

The Dealer will then deal the turn card. You then have the option to check or place a river wager. This wager must be equal in value to your ante wager. The Dealer will then deal the river card.

THE DEALER'S HAND

After all Players have either bet or folded, the Dealer displays their hand indicating the best possible five card hand from the two hole cards and the five community cards. If the Dealer's hand is higher than your hand, you lose both your ante and bet wagers. If you beat the Dealer's hand, you will be paid even money on your ante (only if your hand is ranked flush or higher) and bet wager/s. If your hand is equal to the Dealer's hand this is a stand off and you neither win nor lose.

WINNING BET PAYOUTS

ANTE WAGER Only if hand is ranked flush or higher	1 to 1
FLOP WAGER	1 to 1
TURN WAGER	1 to 1
RIVER WAGER	1 to 1

BONUS WAGER

You can also make an optional bet called the "bonus wager". You are not required to win in the main game to be paid on the bonus wager, provided the wager was placed prior to any cards being dealt. The bonus wager wins when your hand is one of the hands listed below and is paid at the following odds:

2 ACES	30 to 1
ACE AND KING (SUITED)	25 to 1
ACE AND QUEEN, OR ACE AND JACK (SUITED)	20 to 1

THE ODDS OF WINNING

This card game is a game of chance based on Flop Poker. For an initial stake or ante, Players receive two cards face down, five community cards are drawn and the aim is to make the best possible five card hand from your two cards and the five community cards. The Dealer receives two cards face down and uses the same community cards to make the best five card hand from the seven cards. If the Player thinks they cannot beat the Dealer's hand, they can forfeit their stake. To play on, the Player's next bet (flop wager) must be two times their ante. Optional bets (turn wager and river wager) must be of equal value to their ante. The best Poker hand between each Player and the Dealer wins. The House margin for Texas Hold'em Bonus Poker is about 1.46% for skilled Players.
